By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court cleared the way today for Van Buren to vote again on ordinances concerning improvements to its sewer system.

The Supreme Court said Crawford Chancery Court erred in refusing to dismiss a suit filed by the city government attacking petitions to refer to the ballot an initiated act which would repeal the sewer ordinances.

The case centered around whether sponsors of the petition had a right to file them more than 90 days before the election in which the initiated act would be voted on. The petitions were filed last Jan. 3 and the election is Nov. 5.

The initiated act would repeal an ordinance approved by voters on Aug. 7, 1962 authorizing a $702,200 sewer bond issue and an ordinance passed Nov. 12, 1962 setting sewer rates.

The chancery court was ordered to dismiss the city's suit and this means the initiated act can be voted on in the coming election.

The Supreme Court ordered Craighead Circuit Court to free

Today's Star Is Printed With 9pt News Type; Here It and Old 8pt Compared

9-pt Corona

NEW YORK (AP)—If you are reading this news story with more ease than you looked over your favorite newspaper last week, you can thank your newspaper and its wire service.

Starting today, The Associated Press has made it possible for your newspaper to deliver its news stories to you in larger type.

And, larger type means more legibility and hence easier reading.

This news story, along with many others in this newspaper with state, national and international datelines, identified by the credit line, "The Associated Press," or "AP," were delivered for publication over a communications system that provides perforated tape for the composition of type from which newspapers are printed.

The system is known as an automatic type-casting device. Oversimplifying a somewhat technical subject, it works like this:

An operator at a central news service location operates a keyboard that produces perforated paper tape. This tape, fed into a leased wire telegraph system, is reproduced automatically at newspapers participating in this service. This reproduced tape, in turn fed through typesetting machines automatically, produces lines of type—such as these you are reading.

Automatic Transmission Began Here 21 Years Ago

The first multi-city circuit in America transmitting perforated tape to set news automatically on typesetting machines was established in southwest Arkansas June 19, 1942. The circuit received Associated Press news at Hot Springs, N. Y., by special authority of the AP board of directors, and transmitted it over the experimental automatic wire to Hope Star, Magnolia Banner-News, Camden News, and El Dorado Daily News and Evening Times. Later the circuit was expanded to include Texarkana Gazette & News, De Queen Citizen, and Stuttgart Leader.

In 1943, after World War II, the Texas Associated Press converted to the automatic wire, and now it is the standard system for transmission of news. The news comes into The Star office at 60 words a minute, in both perforated tape and typewritten copy—the latter being used merely as a monitor to check the proofs from the automatic typesetting machines.

Until recently there were limitations on the size—that is, both the width and height—of type that could be used. The average size for a newspaper column slightly less than two inches was what is known in the newspaper business as eight point. That's a typographical measurement, meaning in lay language about one-ninth of an inch. There are 72 typographical points in an inch.

Recent developments in which the American Newspaper Publishers Association and various graphic arts equipment manufacturers cooperated, made it possible for this type-size-newsman and printers refer to the words making up this dispatch as "body type"—to be increased without widening the column.

Instead of eight-point type, for instance, this news now can be produced in nine-point type. That's not a big difference in measurement, but your reading of this dispatch compared with the smaller size, if you'll take the time to go back to last week's papers, will demonstrate that in ease of reading it does make quite a difference.

A lot of work was necessary to make the change. Engineers had to figure new mathematical formulas covering the width of letters—ranging from the lower case "j" to the latter capital "W." Equipment manufacturers had to produce new matrices, the molds in which the individual letters and characters are formed in a hot metal process. Wire service mechanics had to change settings on keyboards. Mechanics had to make changes in typesetting machines producing type for your newspaper.

All of this meant a lot of work, first, planning, and then, execution. But the results are designed to please you in making today's printing easier to read.

Foresees Party Debate in '64

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said Sunday he is "almost sure" that President Kennedy will debate the Republican nominee for the presidency in next year's election battle.

Ribicoff declined to comment at a news conference on New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's challenge to Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for a debate between Republicans.

Adenauer to Quit German Post Tuesday

By CARL HARTMAN

BONN, Germany (AP)—Konrad Adenauer, 87, steps reluctantly out of office Tuesday after more than 14 years as the first and only chief executive of the West German Federal Republic.

The Adenauer era has brought most of this country from the depths of disaster and disgrace following World War II to strength and prosperity. But Adenauer leaves behind a lingering problem—West Germans still are separated from 17 million fellow countrymen who are under Communist rule.

Adenauer's friends say he is responsible for the strength and prosperity and that the Soviet Union has frustrated his efforts to reunite Germany. His enemies say strength and prosperity would have come anyway, and accuse Adenauer of helping prevent reunification, a serious charge in German politics.

Adenauer's major accomplishment has been to tie West Germany closely to the West. It was Adenauer who in 1950 first offered the Atlantic Alliance a West German army, despite strong opposition among many Germans to rearmament.

Adenauer, who will be succeeded as chancellor by Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard—a man he has publicly opposed—claims as the crowning accomplishment of his rule the friendship treaty he signed last January with President de Gaulle of France, Germany, he says, has at last become reconciled with its traditional enemy.

Adenauer has little interest in economics. Many West Germans credit their country's reconstruction and prosperity to Erhard, 66, who has headed the Ministry of Economics since the end of World War II.

Erhard starts as chancellor under heavy handicaps. One is

In a letter to Kennedy dated Friday, Korth said he was submitting his resignation "with the utmost regret... so that I may return to private business and attend to my pressing private affairs."

2 Killed as Bus, Trucks Hit in Fog

By DAVE MAZZARELLA
KEARNY, N.J. (AP) — Two persons were killed and 20 to 25 were injured today when a Greyhound bus smashed into the rear of a tractor trailer on the fog-shrouded New Jersey Turnpike.

Police said the victims were two women who apparently were sitting at the front of the bus.

The dead were not immediately identified.

The bus was bound for New York City from Philadelphia.

Its passenger capacity was 45 or 46. A state trooper described the bus as packed.

Three trucks were involved in the smashup, which occurred in the northbound lane of the super-highway just north of Newark.

The flow of northbound commuter traffic was halted for two hours, police said.

It appeared the bus struck two trucks, but the second impact was the worst.

The front of the bus was mangled and the rear was heavily damaged. Passengers were pinned in the vehicle for almost two hours.

St. James Hospital in Newark reported 20 of the injured were brought there. Five more were taken to another hospital.

The smashup occurred in dense fog that settled over the Kearny Meadow area between

India Brushes Off Red Plan

NEW DELHI (AP)—India has rejected as "purely propagandistic" a new Communist Chinese offer to discuss the border dispute between the two nations.

A government spokesman said Premier Chou En-lai offered in a note Oct. 9 to come to New Delhi for talks but the Chinese note "in both its tone and contents indicates no desire of any kind to solve border differences by peaceful methods," the government added.

Mrs. Nhu Admits Husband Was Advised by U.S. to Clear Out of Viet Nam

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu says American diplomats unofficially advised her husband to leave South Viet Nam to help end the political crisis.

"There is nothing to do because they have not asked us to do anything officially yet," she told reporters on the NBC TV and radio program "Meet the Press" Sunday.

But, widening her eyes and gesticulating, she said the request was "absolutely ridiculous."

Her husband, Ngo Dinh Nhu is the brother and chief adviser of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Several times since the notorious lady arrived last Monday night, she has said: "They want the regime to fire my husband

'Bye Bye Birdie' Fine Music Show

To this writer the "movie" finest hour seemed to be the day they learned to talk and brought great musical shows to the screen.

We had one high-rated movie musical the other week which I found disappointing, "West Side Story"—an unfortunate attempt to do a musical show in the New York slums against a background of juvenile delinquency. It drew praise from the New York critics, but I suspect the rest of the nation shrugged it off.

But there is a genuine musical at the Saenger through Monday night, "Bye Bye Birdie"—which is full of satire and comedy and tunes, and features some sprightly young actors in a colorful production.

The new star, of course, is Ann-Margret. And there is the clever TV personality Dick Van Dyke; and Jesse Pearson, who played the role of Conrad Birdie Broadway production.

Elvis Presley might shudder at some of the take-offs he suffers at the hands of Pearson, but it's a movie of which he would approve.

Briefly, the promoters behind Rock and Roll Birdie find their star is being drafted into the army, and they dream up a National Miss Teen-Ager to star with him in a final film—and that's Ann-Margret.

Dick Van Dyke plays a songwriter, Janet Leigh is his secretary and fiancée, and Maureen Stapleton is Dick's mother—always blocking her son's wedding plans. Actually, I thought Janet Leigh stole the show. Check me on this when you go see for yourself. —Washington

Conviction of Sit-ins Is Reversed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court directed South Carolina courts today to reconsider the breach of peace convictions of 65 Negroes arrested while demonstrating against racial segregation at Rock Hill, S.C.

The order came as the court began hearing two days of arguments in five sit-in cases that may bring far-reaching rulings in the court's 1963-64 session on this question:

Can private businessmen who want to operate segregated establishments invoke state trespass laws to back up their exclusion of Negroes?

This issue is presented in case the court agreed at its last term would be considered and set for argument this fall.

The order as to the Rock Hill Negroes was one of more than 500 issued by the high court in acting on the many petitions which piled up during its summer recess.

Among others which touched on the racial issue, the court:

—Rejected an appeal by Clemson College, and thus let stand a lower court decision that the suit resulting in admission last year of the first Negro to Clemson was a class action affecting all Negroes similarly

Fall Program for Legion Junior Group

Increased activities were planned by junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary Leslie Huddleston Unit 12, when they met Wednesday, October 9 at 4 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Joe Jones, Junior Activities chairman.

During the business session the following slate of officers was elected: president, Peggy Franks; secretary, Pam Paris; treasurer, Janey Seamans; historian, Sharon Frith. Serving on the nominating committee were: Margie Herndon, Sharon Paris, and Janey Seamans.

This year the group will participate in four phases of the American Legion Auxiliary program—Pan Americanism, Poppy Day activities, Community Service, and Americanism.

The first phase will include a study of Ecuador, the country selected by the national organization with the slogan "Pennies for Pan America." Fourteen cents were collected to begin this fund raising project. The money collected by the nationwide auxiliary will go toward building elementary schools.

Under the same direction last year three schools were built, one of which was built by the Junior Legion Auxiliary.

Poppy Day activities will include a Queen's Contest and Miss Poppy, Kitty Reeves. Community Service in December will come in the form of a party and gifts for patients in local rest homes, and Americanism will be observed in February with a Washington's Birthday celebration.

In conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served to 8 members.

Crash Victim Identified Through Car

A flaming car-truck collision on the Fulton Red River bridge early Sunday burned up a man and 19 head of cattle and put another man in a Texarkana hospital.

The driver of the automobile was burned beyond recognition—but today he was identified by Arkansas state police through the serial number of his car.

State Police Sergeant Milton (Scrub) Mosier said the serial number was traced to Jamestown, Ohio, where the car was assembled, and that town reported the machine had been sent to Bayshore Motors in San Diego, Calif.

A teletype message to San Diego disclosed the purchaser's name as Thomas G. Willis, 38, who bought the car in his home town of San Diego August 31, 1963.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jenny Willis; twin daughters, Jeanne and JoAnn, and one son, Thomas G., Jr., all of San Diego; one sister, Mrs. Bertha Scott of Newburn, Tenn.; and two brothers, Floyd of Humboldt, Tenn., and P. D. Willis of Nashville, Tenn.

The body is at Herndon-Cornelius, Hope, and arrangements are being made with a funeral home in San Diego.

Willis' car and a tandem cattle truck collided on U.S. 67 at the Fulton bridge, ripping out the vehicles' gas tanks and starting a fire that blocked traffic.

The truck driver, L. S. Lumpkin, 35, of Texarkana, was taken to St. Michael's Hospital in Texarkana, where he is reported in fair condition.

B.&B.W. Mark 39th Anniversary

"The Responsibility of Full Partnership," the theme for National Business Women's Week, was the subject of a message which Miss Gloria Moores of Texarkana brought to the local B & P Club at a dinner Thursday, October 10, at the Barlow. The occasion marked the 39th birthday of the Hope club.

Special music for the evening was medley of songs rendered by Mrs. Maxine White of Nashville accompanied by Mrs. Evva Reynerson. A yellow and green color scheme was carried out in the decoration of the tables, where covers were laid for approximately 40.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Rachael Edmiston. The president, Mrs. Mable Ward, was the officer in charge, and Mrs. Norma Jean Delaney introduced the guest speaker, Miss Moores stressed the importance of education for women to enable them to work better with their employers in a manner of full partnership and co-operation.

Announcements Due Day Before

The Star wishes to remind local secretaries handling announcements to the newspaper that these must be in the newspaper office in writing the day before publication. This rule has always been in effect, but recently The Star has been getting telephone reports the morning of publication, reports that have to be typed by the staff before they can be published. Routine announcements are an accommodation—not news—and the deadline for them is the day before publication, reserving the following morning for handling of news exclusively.

Public Simply Won't Believe This Story

By J. W. DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The American citizen is wrong if he thinks his government never does anything but tax and tax, spend and spend.

There's one federal outfit that actually operates at a profit, bringing in the cash from happy, satisfied customers.

It's the Philatelic Sales Agency in the Post Office Department, which sells more than $3-million worth of stamps to collectors each year.

The agency points out, in a pretty well-satisfied way: "Stamps sold for philatelic purposes are not used for postage and the government is not called upon to perform any service, making the sale of these issues a profitable operation for the Post Office Department."

This is an appropriate time to consider the operations of the agency, since its newest commemorative stamp, honoring Eleanor Roosevelt, is being issued today at a White House ceremony.

One hundred and thirty million of these Mrs. Roosevelt stamps, five cents each, are being printed. Most, of course, will be used on regular mail but many will be hoarded by collectors and never "cashed."

Collectors have a particular liking for commemorative stamps. They are rarer than regular issues and many of them are interesting works of art. Some, it must be admitted, are pretty dowdy.

Commemoratives were first issued in connection with the Chicago World's Fair in 1893. Since then many events and persons have been honored.

The department issues a maximum of 15 different commemorative stamps each year, a total that has been found acceptable to a majority of collectors, as well as the postal authorities.

There has to be some kind of a hold-down, since the department gets 250-300 new proposals each year and has a backlog of requests for approximately 3,000 different stamps.

There are some hurt feelings

Berlin Road Is Open Once More

BERLIN (AP)—A large U.S. Army convoy cleared without trouble through the Soviet checkpoint today en route back to West Germany.

The convoy consisted of 26 vehicles with 149 men. It cleared through the checkpoint at Bah elsherg, outside West Berlin, in 36 minutes.

It was understood that the troops dismounted to be counted by Soviet officers before proceeding along the 110-mile superhighway connecting the Communist-ruled city with West Germany.

If a convoy carries an unusually large number of troops, the commander usually lets the Soviets count individually the men as a courtesy to speed up movement. But the convoy the Russian delayed last weekend consisted of only 18 vehicles with 61 men, and the convoy commander refused to let his men dismount and be counted.

Two monuments have been erected in the memory of David O. Dodd; one stands in the MacArthur Park, the other on the grounds of Old State House.

over the department's refusal to commemorate the founding of cities and towns, but the postal people say there are just too many of them now reaching round-figure anniversaries.

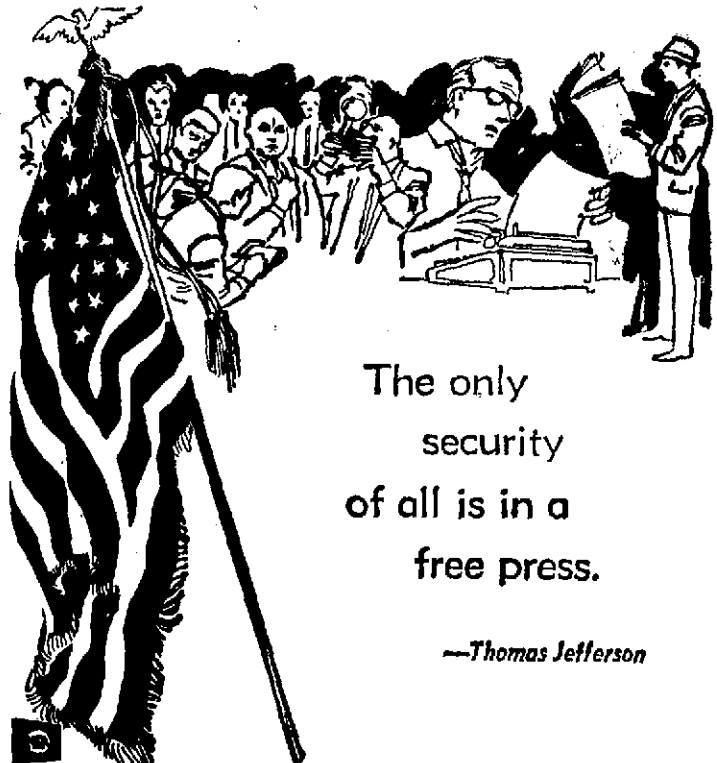

There's also a flat rule against issuing stamps to honor fraternal, political or religious organizations, a commercial enterprise or a specific product.

The best bets for commemoratives are famous people (they have to be dead), or events of widespread national appeal and significance.

In the latter category would come such as the 4-cent Project Mercury stamp of Feb. 20, 1962, signaling the first orbital flight of a U.S. astronaut.

The postmaster general is open to suggestions—just write to him at Washington 25, D.C., 18 months ahead of the time you think your stamp should be issued.

A best seller would make the suggester proud. It'd help the taxpayers, too.

The only security of all is in a free press.

House Not for Joint Moon Project

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—As far as the House of Representatives is concerned, an American and a Russian won't go to the moon together.

Regardless of how President Kennedy feels about cooperative moon exploration—he's for it—the House made its position on the matter clear Thursday.

It nailed into an omnibus appropriation bill a prohibition against use of any space agency funds for participation in a manned lunar landing "to be carried out jointly by the United States and any Communist country."

The prohibition was offered by Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., and had strong Republican and Southern Democratic support. It carried by a standing vote of 125 to 110, with 198 members not vot-

Dutch Queen Is on Tour of Asia

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Queen Juliana of the Netherlands ended an 11-day state visit to Iran and left for Bangkok, Thailand. The queen's husband, Prince Bernhard, and their daughter, Princess Beatrix, are accompanying Juliana on the royal tour.

The action amounts to a slap at the President—who suggested the joint flight three weeks ago in a speech at the United Nations. Russia has not shown interest in the idea.

There is a strong probability the Pelly ban will be eliminated by the Senate, which now has the omnibus bill.

The $13.1-billion measure included $5.1 billion for the space agency. The President had requested $5,712,000,000 but Congress previously reduced this to $5.3 billion in an authorization measure and the Appropriations Committee trimmed it to $5.1 billion. The bill finances 26 federal agencies for this fiscal year.

Five Sit-in Cases Up to High Court

By PAUL M. YOST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court begins hearing arguments today in five sit-in cases that raise important issues of the use of state trespass laws to back up exclusion of Negroes by private businessmen.

In legal debate that will extend over most of two days, the justices consider cases from Maryland, South Carolina and Florida.

Numerous other appeals requesting review of convictions of racial demonstrators are on the docket, but action on these is expected to be deferred until the first five cases are decided.

The court faces the complex civil rights questions at the same time that Congress is considering legislation dealing with identical issues.

Last May 20 the high tribunal decided in a group of sit-in cases that demonstrators demanding service in stores and other places of public accommodation may not be arrested if a city or state makes segregation its policy by ordinance or official statements.

It did not say anything about whether a private businessman has the right to discriminate when there is no state or local segregation policy. But on the same day the justices agreed to hear this week the five cases which appear to pose this question.

In the legal background of the new arguments is a decision of 80 years ago. The Supreme Court, at that time, decided the Constitution's Fourteenth Amendment bars only discrimination by state action, as distinguished from discrimination resulting from "personal choice."

Counsel for the Legal Defense Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in a preliminary brief told the Court the Fourteenth Amendment's guarantee that states may not deny equal protection of laws also means that states must ensure such equal treatment.

In the cases of racial demonstrators arrested and convicted, the brief said state power was involved to a significant degree in that the states' laws fail to furnish protection and subordinate demonstrators' rights to equality to "a narrow and technical property claim."

However, Solicitor General Archibald Cox in a "friend of the court" brief said the court could decide the five cases on narrower grounds.

In four of the cases, Cox said, demonstrators were convicted of trespass, charges after refusing to leave private property, but

Goldwater to Declare in January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has ringed Jan. 27, 1964 on his calendar as D-day for an expected plunge into active competition for the Republican presidential nomination.

That date represents the deadline for filing of petitions to put Goldwater's name in the April 14 Illinois presidential primary.

Although the Arizona senator could permit his name to go on the ballot without lifting a finger by merely failing to ask by Feb. 1 that it be withdrawn, he said in an interview that he expects to announce his intentions by state laws prohibited only entering the property after being forbidden to do so.

In the fifth case, from Florida, Cox said demonstrators were not told why they were being asked to leave and thus were not given proper notice that their presence might be illegal.

The first case to be called today is reargument of an appeal by five Negroes arrested June 30, 1960 after refusing to leave Glen Echo Park in a Maryland suburb of Washington. Each was fined $50 under Maryland's trespass law. The park since has been opened to all races.

June Allyson Is Wed on Saturday

LOS ANGELES (A.)—Actress June Allyson and hair stylist Glenn Maxwell have settled down to married life in her Beverly Hills home.

Miss Allyson, 39-year-old widow of actor-producer Dick Powell, and Maxwell, 31, were married Saturday at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Jan. 27. The Illinois primary is advisory only and the results there technically will not be binding on the state's 58-vote delegation to the San Francisco convention.

But the importance of a show of strength in the state has been impressed on Goldwater and his strategists. Illinois, which went for President Kennedy in 1960, offers the senator his best opportunity to demonstrate vote-getting ability in a big state.

Some of his lieutenants think Illinois could provide the vital convention votes he needs to combine with support from the South, other areas of the Midwest and the Far West to win the nomination.

Goldwater has said he expects his name to be entered in the March 10 New Hampshire primary, where his consent is not required. Petitions could be filed by the end of January for this race. He is likely to be opposed by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in a battle for the state's 14 convention votes.

Congress to Take Time on Touchy Bills

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House committees will consider at a leisurely pace this week the two major bills left for Congress this year — civil rights and tax reduction.

The only major legislation scheduled for floor action in either branch is a broad college construction aid bill expected to pass the Senate Tuesday or Wednesday.

The Senate Finance Committee opens its public hearings on the $11-billion tax cut bill Tuesday with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon the lead-off witness.

Dillon is expected to testify at least two days. Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., has made it plain that several weeks of hearings are in prospect, although he says the schedule is not firm yet.

The House passed the bill Sept. 25. The Senate committee has been holding staff briefings on the measure in advance of the public testimony. The briefings end today.

The House Judiciary Committee resumes its closed-door consideration Tuesday of the sweeping civil rights bill approved by a subcommittee. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has been invited to give his views on this version.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., has given no indication of when he thinks the committee may reach final agreement on the measure.

At most, only 12 weeks remain for this year's session, and there would be that much time left only if Congress decides to stay on the job right up to the time left only if Congress decides to stay on the job right up to the time the 1964 session convenes, Jan. 3.

arkana have returned from Denison, Texas, where they attended the wedding of their daughter Sharon Kaye Wright to Rev. Glen Tropp also of Denison, Texas. Sharon Kaye is the daughter of Rev. D. B. ### MOHER FEELS SORRY FOR SELF

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: My husband never remembers me, even on Mother's Day, saying, "She isn't my mother." Last Mother's Day is one I can't forget. On Saturday, not even a card from Sharon Kaye, my daughter, alone feeling sad, depressed and neglected because my husband had to work. On Monday, I received cards from the kids. It helped some but not much. My husband always remembers his mother on that day of days. When I visited her after this past Mother's Day, there was a plant from him with a card saying, "Happy Mother's Day." I was annoyed no end. I didn't tell my mother-in-law got nothing, and I fibbed to my friends about small gifts received from the children. I just had to pretend for they all got presents from their kids. Even though Mother's Day has long since come and gone, this still bugs me. Since I could not discuss this with anyone have decided to write you since that in itself could be a cure for me. What do you think? — Neglected

Dear Neglected: Don't brood! Self-pity is corroding. You place entirely too much emphasis on the outer expression of your family's love. We get in life about what we give. Have you always been as thoughtful of them—and I don't mean about superficial things like gifts and greeting cards?

Instead of dwelling on their remissness, spend your "think-time" remembering all they have done for you, material and otherwise. My mother scorned gifts on Mother's Day. She thought it a commercial ruse played up by shopkeepers to move merchandise. And she was right. Your family may be reluctant to give storekeepers, greeting card manufacturers and advertisers the satisfaction of buying their ware.

You must know in your heart of hearts that you are making a mountain out of a molehill. Give you wouldn't hesitate to tell your friends the truth. If they are nosy enough to ask out-right, you could either play mysterious and say, "I'll never tell," or give them an honest answer. Everybody respects the truth.

Reverse your thinking. Try giving instead of getting. And accent the positive by refusing to indulge in negative thinking. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Don't Be Sensitive."

Dear Helen: I care for a boy of different faith. My folks object because of his religion. I love them dearly and am sure they do me but don't they want me to be happy? I am an only child and, until now, have always done as they wished but I just can't break with this boy. How can I make my parents like him as much as I do? I am 16, he 18. —Broken-hearted

Dear Broken-hearted: This is one of the most difficult kind of problems to answer without knowing the people involved. Part of your parents' objection probably lies in your age. If you were older and still preferred this boy they might not object, but at your age you have no way of knowing all the problems attendant on a mixed marriage. It isn't that they don't want you to be happy. When a parent disciplines a child it is not to make the child suffer but to help him behave in such a way that he will be a happy future citizen. Parents who discipline well, act selflessly. In the process of helping you achieve a happier future your parents are willing to risk your resentment. Since you love this boy, try to persuade them to let you keep seeing him, but if they continue to object, respect their wishes.

Dear Helen: My boy friend and I have a hard time talking. When he comes to see me we just sit there, staring at one another or fidgeting. I don't think of a single thing to say nor can he. At first I thought that as time passed it would be easy to laugh and discuss things of mutual interest like our friends and going places. But six months have passed and we're still tongue-tied. Help! —Speechless

Dear Speechless: Tell the boy goodbye. This is what you have been going together to find out. Once a boy and girl discover they lack companionship, seeing any more of each other serves no purpose. Six months is too long to go with a boy and still be tongue-tied. The boy friend destined to be your husband is someone who will share your interests to such a degree that you seldom run out of conversation and, when you do, you won't notice it because you will be so comfortable in each other's presence.

Life will be too short for all you want to say and do together. With your present boy friend, a single year of married life would be an eternity.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help

Ike 73, Has Quiet Party at His Home

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, turning 73 today, planned to observe his birthday quietly with his family.

Actually, today provides the former chief executive with a restful interval between the festivities planned by his friends to commemorate the occasion.

Saturday night old friends from his White House days threw a big party for him in nearby Hershey.

Tuesday he will be in Washington for an affair which also will double as a fund-raising dinner for the Republican party.

Eisenhower told newsmen Sunday that his schedule today would be quite simple. He and his wife, Mamie, planned to drive to their son John's this afternoon for a traditional birthday party — produced, directed and performed by their four grandchildren.

Tonight the family will gather for dinner at the home of retired Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevins, was Eisenhower's planning officer in the Normandy invasion. Now he serves as supervisor of the vast Eisenhower farm here.

Cigarette Lawsuit Is Thrown Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New Orleans widow was denied today a Supreme Court review of a suit, unsuccessful in lower courts, in which she contended two tobacco companies were liable for the death of her husband, a cigarette smoker who died of lung cancer.

Mrs. Victoria St. Pierre Lartigue sued in U.S. District Court in New Orleans after the death in 1955 of Frank J. Lartigue. Her suit named the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. and Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. A jury decided against her and the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans affirmed the result.

In appealing to the Supreme Court, Mrs. Lartigue contended cigarette manufacturers were guilty of breach of an implied warranty of wholesomeness in selling their products; that this warranty is absolute, regardless of whether the manufacturer knew, or should, or could have known of defects in products.

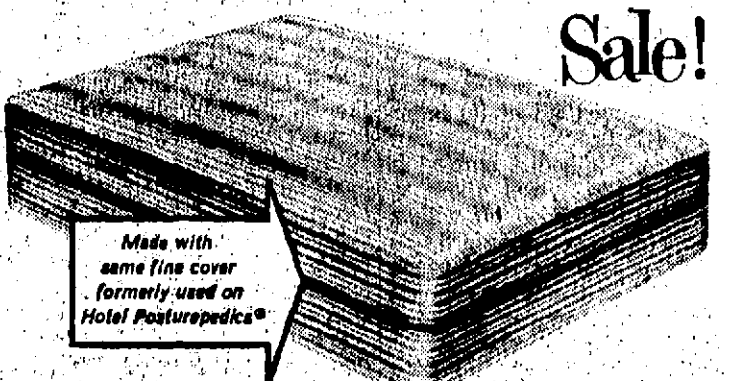

The two defendant tobacco companies in a joint reply brief told the Supreme Court Lartigue died at age 65, after smoking excessively since the time he was nine years old.

Texas Fears No. 1 Spot to Be Jinx

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas anticipates that his team will be named No. 1 in the nation this week. He says it will be a handicap because what may be the biggest game of the Southwest Conference season is coming up Saturday night at Little Rock.

Then, Texas plays Arkansas. Back in August the predictions were free that this would settle the championship. Since then, some momentous things have happened. Arkansas lost to Baylor 14-10 last week at the same time Texas was beating the No. 1 team in the nation—Oklahoma—28-7.

So Arkansas has to win the game just to stay in the race and it probably will be facing the No. 1 team in the nation. Royal said this made it just more difficult although he certainly didn't want to turn down such an honor for his team.

"When you are No. 1 the tension builds up," he said. "It calls everybody's attention to the fact that you are away up there and they work hard to knock you off. But we like to be well thought of. There are a lot of teams that never have been up there to get knocked off."

Texas was No. 1 last year at the time it met Arkansas. The Longhorns won 7-3 and stayed on top. But the next week they were tied 14-14 by winless Rice and fell down to No. 5.

Texas' smashing victory over the touted Oklahoma brought the greatest weekend in history for the Southwest Conference in intersectional football. As far as can be determined, there never had been a week before when the league won all of its intersectional tests.

Southern Methodist started it off with a 32-18 upset of Navy. Then Rice finished it off with a 23-13 victory over Stanford. So far this season the conference stands 11-6 in the intersectional football as it moves into the heart of conference play.

Southern Methodist and Rice clash at Houston Saturday night to open the championship race. All other teams have already tested conference action. Texas and Baylor lead the race with 1-0 records.

Arkansas is 1-1 and so is Texas Christian, which beat Texas Tech 35-3 last week. Texas Tech is 1-2 and Texas A&M, which went outside the conference to beat independent Houston 23-13 for its first victory of the season, is 0-1.

The Aggies and Texas Christian mix in a conference go at Fort Worth Saturday while Baylor and Texas Tech tangle at Lubbock.

Brown Draws Praise From Loser Giants

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

"If he had run any harder, he'd have killed one of us."

Jimmy Brown received that tribute from defender Sam Huff after staying on his record-breaking course Sunday by rambling over, around and through the New York Giants for three touchdowns in a 35-24 Cleveland victory that kept the Browns undefeated in the National Football League.

A one-man Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside, Brown dove one yard for the first Browns' touchdown, took a screen pass 72 yards for the touchdown that put Cleveland ahead to stay and wound up his performance with a 32-yard scoring run.

The former Syracuse All-American and NFL rushing record-holder gained 123 in 23 carries on the ground and grabbed four passes for an additional 86 yards.

With only five games on the 14-game NFL schedule completed, Brown is threatening his own one-season ground-gaining record of 1,527 yards, set in 1958; Joe Perry's career record of 1,280 yards gained, in 14 seasons; and Jim Taylor's one-season touchdown record of 19, set last year.

Brown is his seventh season, has gained 787 yards this season—an amazing 7.8 average—8,230 career yards and has scored 10 touchdowns this year.

The Browns' victory maintained their one-game hold on the Eastern Conference lead. St. Louis slipped into second with a 24-23 decision over Pittsburgh on Charlie Johnson's 28-yard pass to Bobby Joe Conrad with five seconds remaining and Jim Bakken's conversion.

The Chicago Bears remained the NFL's only other unbeaten team, crushing the Los Angeles Rams 52-14 as Mike Ditka grabbed four touchdown passes. Green Bay's defending league champion Packers remained one game back in the Western Conference race with a 27-23 decision over Minnesota.

Sonny Jurgensen's four touchdown passes carried Philadelphia to a 37-24 triumph over Washington, Dallas whipped Detroit 17-14 for its first victory and Baltimore defeated San Francisco 20-3.

In the American League, San Diego edged the New York Jets 24-20. Buffalo downed Kansas City 3-26 and Houston beat Denver 33-24.

In addition to the hundreds of miles of fishing streams in Arkansas, there is commercial fish farming in every county in the state.

It doesn't seem likely in the wake of the American team's sweeping 23-9 victory in the 15th biennial Ryder Cup competition between the two countries.

The U.S. team, called invincible by its proud captain Arnold Palmer, shook off morning doldrums each day in the three-day match.

Britain tied the Yanks 8-8 in the morning matches, but lost the afternoon contests 15-1. The

A.&M. Gets by Ouachita 14 to 6

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas A&M, one of the front runners in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football race, needed a big break Saturday night to skip past Ouachita at Arkadelphia.

But the Tigers failed to cover a kickoff, and the Boll Weevils pounced on it and turned it into a touchdown that led to a 14-6 AIC victory and kept their record unblemished.

Elsewhere around the AIC:

State Teachers in a mighty show of offense crushed Harding 28-0 at Conway. Ozarks managed a 7-7 tie with Principia College at Elsie, Ill. Henderson came from behind to beat Southern State at Magnolia, and Arkansas Tech stung first and then got swatted 22-7 by Jacksonville State at Jacksonville, Ala.

A&M quarterback Donnie Lindsey ran 27 yards for a second-quarter touchdown against Ouachita and Ronnie Higgins kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead. The drive went 58 yards in seven plays.

Ouachita came back in the third quarter with a 36-yard drive capped by nine-yard touchdown pass from Frank Spainhour to Jack Mills. The drive was set up by a punt and two penalties.

Then Ouachita failed to cover the kickoff, and A&M set up shop on the Tigers' 18 and went in from there. Late in the fourth quarter, Ouachita stopped the Boll Weevils at the one, but there were no other unproductive drives.

Statistically, the game was close. Ouachita had 224 yards total offense to 294 yards for A&M.

State Teachers piled up 554 yards total offense in crushing Harding. Teachers' wingback, Robert Stone rushed 12 times for 149 yards and halfback, Bill Grubbs, carried 13 times for 112 yards.

Quarterback John Beard sneaked one yard for a TD in the second quarter, capping a 62-yard drive. Minutes later Stone broke over the middle and went 54 yards for a score.

Quarterback Bob Tiner capped a 63-yard drive in the fourth quarter with a seven-yard scoring run and, with one second left in the game, Tiner plunged a yard for the other Teachers' touchdown. Coy Clark kicked three extra points Howard Felts kicked one.

Don Beebe fired a 23-yard pass to end Mike Smith for a Tech touchdown in the first quarter at Jacksonville.

and they still do it from what I hear in my country, because your people ask around very openly, 'are you pro-coup or anti-coup?' They do not hide it."

She said however that she now believes that people in the USIS have misconstrued normal orders of the U.S. government to look for replacements for the Diem regime just in case the situation is serious. "But instead of seeking other replacements, overzealous from a few people, well, they want to topple it."

To be certain that her brother-in-law, President Diem, was not accused of sending her to the U.S. to speak for his regime, Mrs. Nhu said she studiously avoided saying "good-bye" before departing from Saigon four months ago.

(The Nhu family shares the bachelor president's palace, where she acts as his official hostess.)

"Perhaps we could get along if we were a little softer on communism," she suggested. She had already described the U.S. government as following "the government as following 'the new fashion of politics which is less anti-Communist.'"

At the crux of the political crisis in South Viet Nam are charges made by the Buddhists of religious oppression by the government of Diem, who is a Roman Catholic. The Buddhists claim 80 per cent of the South Vietnamese population.

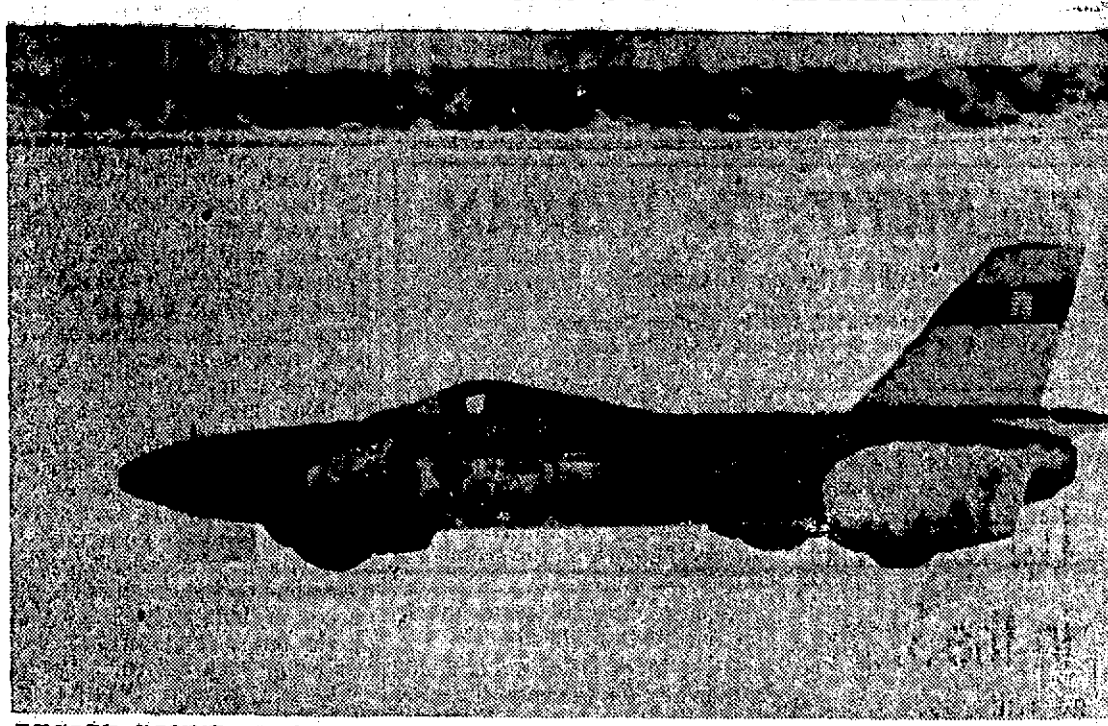

Mrs. Nhu said Confucianism is her country's national religion, arguing that taking a census of Buddhists is impossible. However, she says the leaders of the Buddhist movement published a book in 1962 estimating that only one million out of 40 million were Buddhist followers then.

"God is in my corner," Mrs. Nhu told New York's official greeter, Commissioner Richard Patterson, shortly before leaving her hotel to worship at St. Agnes Roman Catholic Church Sunday.

Damaging Drought in 16 States

CHICAGO (AP)—Drought conditions aggravated by hot autumn weather have parched areas in at least 16 states from Texas to New Hampshire, drying up pastures and water sources and posing a fire threat in tinder-dry woodlands.

An Associated Press survey showed today that the conditions stem from 1963 rainfall deficits—in some instances shortages of 10 inches or more—in most states east of the Rockies.

Pastures, late crop hay and Western rangeland have been hit hardest, creating livestock feed shortages. Milk production in a major Missouri dairy area is down 7 per cent. Stock water shortages have forced some cattlemen to cut herds sharply.

Reports of water restrictions imposed by municipalities are common. Both surface sources, such as rivers and reservoirs, and deep wells have been affected.

The Army Corps of Engineers report levels of all the Great Lakes except Ontario are below the 10-year average level and still dropping. Low levels have slowed barge traffic on the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers.

Although the drought hit several Midwest farm areas, its economic effect was tempered because such major crops as corn and soybeans were near maturity when it set in. The dry weather permitted early harvesting, however, and put a strain on facilities for storing and shipping grain.

Reports of forest fire danger were common in parts of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee and throughout much of the Northeast.

Perry H. Merrill, superintendent of forests and parks in Vermont, termed that state's fire threat the worst in many years.

More than 100 forest fires have broken out since Oct. 1 in New York State, including two that burned over an estimated 500 acres in the Adirondacks.

Newark, largest city in New Jersey, has halted street washing and hydrant flushing and asked its industries to conserve water.

Some 35 of North Carolina's 100 counties have been designated disaster areas to enable farmers to purchase feed grains at reduced prices.

two men who were arrested and charged with forgery last November on grounds that they had been placed in double jeopardy when the court ordered a mistrial in their case without the consent of their attorneys.

The defendants are James D. Cody and Gardner Lee Muse, who, the Supreme Court said, have been in jail since they were arrested last Nov. 17.

The Supreme Court declared a mistrial so that Muse could be sent to the State Hospital for a mental examination. The question of Muse's sanity was not raised until the trial began.

The Supreme Court said that it found no "overruling necessity" for the mental examination for Muse and that in no case should the lower court have declared a mistrial in Cody's case simply because Muse was being sent to the State Hospital.

The Supreme Court affirmed a Boone Circuit Court decision not had a trace of rain since Oct. 1.

BELLUNO, Italy (AP)—More than 10,000 men worked feverishly awarding J. K. Hefley Sr. and others $78,000 for four tracts of land condemned by the Harrison Urban Renewal Agency.

The agency appealed the judgment as excessive and argued that the trial court had erred in refusing to admit evidence concerning a highway easement on the property.

The Supreme Court said the lower court properly rejected the evidence because the highway easement had not been mentioned in previous pleadings in the case and should not have been admitted in evidence toward the conclusion of the trial.

The Supreme Court affirmed two Scott Circuit Court decisions in highway condemnation cases. In one the court awarded Mr. and Mrs. Allen Carpenter and others $6,063 for two tracts of land and in the other, Tyrus Bowman and others received $8,550 for four tracts.

The Highway Commission appealed both cases on grounds that the methods used by the court to determine damage were improper.

today to collect bodies of the dead in the Vaiont Dam disaster and then bury them in a gigantic mass grave to prevent outbreaks of disease.

Up to 3,000 persons were believed killed when a mountain landslide crashed into the dam's reservoir Wednesday night, sending a vast flood roaring over the dam and down the Piave River valley.

But most of the bodies were still missing under the miles of mud and stone that turned the Alpine valley 60 miles north of Venice into a wasteland.

Interior Undersecretary Giovanni Giraudo warned that if the bodies were not soon buried properly, the area would face a major epidemic hazard.

U.S. Military personnel worked alongside Italian troops, police and Red Cross teams. Supplies and heavy earthmoving equipment moved into the stricken zone from all sections of Italy.

The landslide, crashing into the reservoir, sent more than 100 millions of tons of water plunging nearly 700 feet up the surrounding mountain sides. Then the raging water boiled over the 873-foot-high reinforced concrete dam, and roared down the valley, wiping out whole villages.

Italian officials said no American civilians were known to have been caught in the disaster. A spokesman for U. S. military forces in Italy said no American personnel or dependents were near the stricken area at the time.

In Washington, President Kennedy ordered the Defense Department to provide "any assistance required and desired" by the Italian government. Kennedy also cabled Italian President Antonio

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, strongly pro-American elder statesman of Japan, says he will not run for a seat in the lower house in the next general election.

Yoshida is expected to remain as an adviser to the ruling Liberal Democratic party, but to retire from frontline political activity.

Giraudo told newsmen Thursday night that recent heavy rains had caused "some preoccupation" about conditions of the side of Mt. Toc, the 6,336-foot peak on the south flank of the reservoir from which the mass of earth and stones crashed into the water. An upper corner of the dam was damaged but the barrier held fast.

Giraudo said engineers had been lowering the reservoir level for three days as a normal precaution before winter, when danger of landslides always increases.

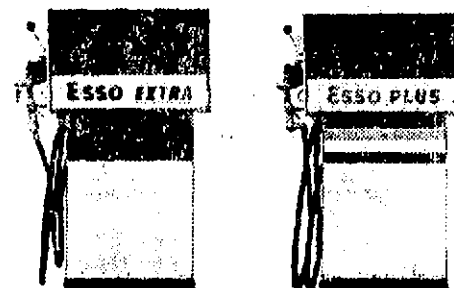

ENEL, the government agency in charge of the over industry, denied that its engineers could have averted the disaster.

The Communist party newspaper L'Unita headlined: "A massacre that could have been avoided." In a front-page editorial the paper said it had been known all along that the dam had been built in area of great landslide danger

And Now It Is Texas for Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks went down in a dignified heap under Baylor's passing attack Saturday night, and now they have their backs to the wall in this week's bout with mighty Texas.

The Parker - Longhorn game had been billed as the game that would decide the Southwest Conference championship. Now, for the Hogs, it's the game they must win in order to stay in contention for the title.

Texas, riding high after their monumental 27-7 upset of Oklahoma, will bring a four-game winning streak and the nation's No. 1 ranking to War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock.

Arkansas, crippled with injuries since fall practice, will depend on defense, a youthful offense that still hasn't jelled, and that old Razorback spirit.

For the second week in a row the Hogs will face a great quarterback. Baylor's Don Trull engineered the 14-10 upset in Waco Saturday night. Texas' Duke Carlisle played the victory over the Cowboys and got 62 yards rushing.

The Razorbacks played "as good as we know how" against Baylor. Coach Frank Broyles said. But the brilliant passing coordination of Trull and halfback Lawrence Elkins and a couple of bad breaks beat Arkansas.

Trull completed 21 of 34 passes for 247 yards. He hit Elkins on 47 and 47-yard touchdown passes. Elkins caught eight passes for 140 yards.

Broyles saw the first half of the Texas-Oklahoma game and declared that the Longhorns have their best team since he came to Arkansas. "They're more potent on offense and defense, and they have a senior ball club," he said. "Carlisle makes the same kind of great plays for them that Billy Moore made for us last year."

He said the Hogs went into the Baylor game "fired up and ready to play." What happened? "We couldn't get Trull down."

Both Broyles and Baylor Coach John Bridgers agreed that the turning point came in the first quarter with Arkansas leading 17-0 and the Hogs moving on their 43. Quarterback

Italian Dam Still Good as Generator

By WILLIAM MAIRANI
BELLUNO, Italy (AP) — The man who built the Vaiont Dam said today the giant barrier still could furnish electricity after repairs.

He declined to comment on how survivors of last week's catastrophe would react to having the dam—third highest in the world—resume operations.

"I see no reason for not using the dam again," said Giuseppe Torno. "It's not badly damaged and can provide hydroelectric power again with repairs. With part of Mt. Toc in the middle, the reservoir will be much smaller, of course, but still very large."

A landslide from Mt. Toc plunged into the reservoir behind the dam five nights ago, hurling millions of tons of reservoir water onto communities in the Piave River Valley below. The flood devastated a huge area of towns and farms.

Thousands of soldiers still dug in the mud for bodies, and the exact casualty toll was not known.

President Antonio Segni, touring the area Sunday, was told by Interior Minister Mariano Rumor that at least 1,800 persons were dead in longshore and other villages below the dam.

Billy Gray fired a hard pass over the line. Baylor's Arturo Delgado tipped it, and Baylor tackle Bobby Crenshaw intercepted and returned it 24 yards. Before Gray caught him at the 14, Trull lost three yards, but Elkins in the end zone with the pass that won the game.

Arkansas had a similar opportunity in the second period but got only a field goal out of it. Gary Howard intercepted a pass on the Baylor 28 and returned it for clipping killed a drive and McKnelly finally kicked a field goal from the 22.

Baylor took the kickoff and drove 64 yards for its touchdown.

Arkansas' six-point game came on a 48-yard drive after the second half kickoff set back 15 yards by a penalty on the last play of the first half and five more yards because of offensive Gray passed 27 yards to halfback Jim Lindsey to the 12 and put to the one quickly, but it took three thrusts from there to score. Fullback Charles Daniel finally did the honors.

Kennedy in Salute to U.S. Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court directed today that Minnesota courts reconsider the case of a woman who got a jail sentence for refusing to serve on a jury because of her religious beliefs.

The court, in a brief order, acted on an appeal by Mrs. Owen Jensen, a member of the Church of God. She said she took literally the Bible words in Matthew, Chapter 7, Verse 1, "Judge not, that you be not judged."

For this reason she declined to be a member of a jury to try a civil case in Renville County, Minn., District Court on Nov. 13, 1962. The county judge sentenced her to 30 days in jail for contempt. She remained in custody seven days, then was released pending appeals. The Minnesota Supreme Court affirmed the contempt finding.

NAACP Appeals Ouster Order

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Forest fires destroyed 6,500 acres of timber in the Ouachita National Forest of Arkansas and Oklahoma over the weekend.

The Forest Service brought in two P-25 patrol tanker planes from Knoxville, Tenn., to spray chemicals to stop new fires. The planes will be stationed at Fort Smith.

Don Hughes, assistant supervisor of the sprawling forest, said one fire burned over 4,000 acres near Hotwater, Okla., and

He said at least 300,234 presumed dead from villages around the reservoir. Rescue officials said the final figure could reach 3,000.

Torno said the fact that the dam held despite the gigantic landslide was proof of its excellence. He said that if the 373-foot-high concrete dam had given away, thousands more would have died.

"From a geological point of view, no man in the world could have forecast such a tragedy," said his assistant, Alberto Zanone.

Most of the nation was still not convinced.

A government commission pressed an investigation to determine whether authorities knew the side of rain-soaked Mt. Toc was slipping and whether evacuation warnings would have averted the loss of life.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he would try to see if labor problems at the University of Arkansas can be settled "without a combat to the finish."

"I will not attempt to settle this thing personally, but I will try to get the opposing groups together to see if it can be worked out," Faubus said at a news conference.

The governor suggested that a committee from the university Board of Trustees and a committee representing the disgruntled employees talk the matter out.

"There is no way to settle anything unless someone talks to somebody," Faubus said.

He noted that there is little room for negotiating salaries of state employees because these salaries—at least the maximum amount which can be paid—are set by the legislature.

Faubus said he realized that the university situation probably would be used against him by his critics. But he said that if he had to be classified he should be classified as a pro-union man.

MARRAKECH, Morocco (AP) — King Hassan II came personally to see that Mrs. John F. Kennedy was settled in the 19th century walled Moorish palace he has lent her for her visit in Morocco.

He drove over from his own summer palace about half a mile away to visit Mrs. Kennedy for about 30 minutes Sunday night, two hours after she arrived here on a plane from Athens.

Another burned over 2,500 acres north of Gravelly, Ark., in Yell County.

Both were put out Sunday with the help of 200 soldiers from Ft. Chaffs. One hundred soldiers, along with forest service personnel, fought each fire.

The tanker planes have spray apparatus attached to their bomb bays and can fly low over a fire and spray the area, cutting the danger of the fire spreading.
